time, Glenn Falls was president and E. E. Wolfram served as Executive Secretary-Treasurer. He held this position for two years when he was asked to succeed Dr. Wolfram who had reached retirement age. Harold served as Executive Secretary-Treasurer until his own retirement.

To date, no one has served the Board for a longer time than Harold – ten years as a member of the Board, 19 1/2 years as Executive Secretary-Treasurer then 5 1/2 years as part-time consultant and director of marketing, a total of 35 years.

Before he became Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Harold pastored the Glendale Church of God (now Church at the Crossing) in Indianapolis, Indiana. While there he completed courses at Christian Theological Seminary to earn his Master of Divinity degree, a degree program he began at the Anderson School of theology in 1952. During his years of service with the Board of Pensions, he did graduate work at Ball State University in the field of administration and attended numerous workshops and seminars on finance, investments, economics and retirement.

The economy was in recession when Harold became the Board's chief operating officer in 1974. Many were wondering if a depression or even a total collapse of the market was in store. The next few years, however, saw a turnaround. His years of leadership saw significant change and increasing service to the Church. With the assistance of dedicated and astute officers and trustees, Harold led the Board of Pensions from self-management of funds to the use of competent money managers with excellent track records of good returns from investments.

Under his leadership, Pension Plan membership grew. A tireless worker, Dr. Conrad served on many state and national church boards and committees; treasurer of the Indiana Evangelistic Board, chair of the Indiana State Assembly, vice chair of the Kentucky State Assembly, chair of the Division of World Service and chair of the World Hunger and Relief Committee. But one of the greatest honors bestowed on him was when he served as vice president and president of one of the oldest annual conferences in the United States – the Church Pensions Conference – which brings together the primary leaders and directors of the major church pension plans in the United States.

Harold lost his first wife, Anne, in 1956. At her death, he was left with three small children. Nearly five years later, he married Naomi (Sweeny), a missionary nurse and midwife in Kenya, East Africa.

Harold often said, "All I have I owe to the Church. The Church has been good to me - better than I deserve."
